PISCO SOUR

{Move Over Whiskey And Amaretto}

This home-grown, handcrafted spirit has been in South America for more than 300 years, and now has exploded throughout the South Florida cocktail scene. After hours of research and tastings, I have my Imbibe pisco decoder ring and can pass some knowledge to our readers.

Pisco is a clear, grape-based distilled spirit that is similar to brandy. It sits between unflavored vodka and botanical gin. Some liken it to grappa, but it is much smoother and softer tasting. Like tequila, piscos come in three variations:

- PURO: single varietal
- ACHOLADO: blend of two or more grape varietals
- MOSTO VERDE: distilled from partially fermented freshpressed grape juice

The origin of the pisco sour is hotly debated, with both Peru and Chili claiming it as their national cocktail. The two kinds of pisco and the two variations in the style of preparing the Pisco Sour are distinct in both production and taste. Try one yourself and tag @mymixologista to share your comments.

PERU VS. CHILI

Peruvian Pisco is authentic fresh grape must* distilled from one or a blend of eight local grape varietals: Italia, Torontel, Moscatel, Albilla, Quebranta, Negra Criolla, Mollar, and Uvina.

- Contained in stainless steel or glass
- Distilled to proof – no water added

- No wood-aging allowed

* very young wine

CHILEAN PISCO IS INFLUENCED

- distilled from three grape varietals: Moscatel, Pedro Jimenez, and Torontel
- Multiple distillations
- May be diluted
- Barrel aging allowed

WHERE TO IMBIBE A PISCO SOUR:

STACHE, 1920's Drinking Den, Downtown Himmarshee District | SWEET NECTAR Charcoal Grille and Spirits, Las Olas Boulevard
THE COCKTAIL COLLECTION at Tobacco Road, Miami | OCEANS 234 in Deerfield Beach features a mango version

PISCO SOUR COCKTAIL RECIPE

By Nick Nistico, Corporate Beverage Program Development Specialist, Premier Beverage Company

- 2 ounces Pisco Portón
- 1 ounce simple syrup
- 1 ounce fresh lemon juice
- 1 egg white

Shake all ingredients without ice first to create a froth.

PRO TIP

an electronic milk frothier works great for this.

Shake with ice and strain into a martini or coupe glass

Garnish with freshly grated cinnamon or a dash of bitters.

TRY THIS

Add 1 ounce of any fruit of your choice to create a flavored Pisco Sour. Mango, Passion Fruit, Strawberry-Basil, Lime-Pomegranate
